Passive Information Collection

As you navigate through a website, certain information can be passively collected (that is, gathered without your actively providing the information) using various technologies and means, such as Internet Protocol addresses, cookies, Internet tags, personal email addresses, Facebook pixels, and navigational data collection. Our Website uses Internet Protocol (IP) addresses. An IP Address is a number assigned to your computer by your Internet service provider, so you can access the Internet and is generally considered to be non-personally identifiable information, because in most cases an IP address is dynamic (changing each time you connect to the Internet), rather than static (unique to a particular user's computer). We may use your IP address to diagnose problems with our server, report aggregate information, determine the fastest route for your computer to use in connecting to our site, and to administer and improve our Website.

Analytics Services

We use third-party analytics tools, including "Google Analytics" (such tools collectively referred to as "Analytics Services") to collect information about the usage of the Website. The Analytics Services collect information about how often users visit the Website, what pages they visit when they do so, and what other websites they used prior to coming to the Website, among other information. We use the information we get from these Analytics Services to improve our Website and our services.

These Analytics Services collect the IP address assigned to you on the date you visit the Website, along with other anonymized information (e.g., browser type and type of device used to visit the Website), but not your name or other personally identifiable information. The Analytics Services' ability to use and share information about your visits to the Website is restricted by their terms of use and privacy policies. We do not combine the information collected through the use of Google Analytics with personally identifiable information.

You can prevent Google Analytics from recognizing you on return visits to this site by disabling cookies on your browser. You can opt-out of Google Analytics by installing the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on.
